

Grandmaster's Class 2018 Wrap Up

Grandmaster's Class was a huge success! Everyone had a lot of fun—playing sports in the morning and we were able to induct 5 members into Iowa DeMolay! Not to mention the homemade fajitas, which were delicious! A huge thank you to all those that performed parts in the ceremony, to everyone that attended to make the event special, and especially to those that brought in those new members! A final thank you for the advisors. Without your help the event would not have been a success. We appreciate all that you do for DeMolay!

DeMolay International Internship

This summer, I will be an intern for DeMolay International at the Henry E. "Hank" Stickney Service & Leadership Center in Kansas City, Missouri. The internship is from mid-May to mid-August. During the internship I will be helping with final preparations for the 2018 Session, assist in planning next year's Centennial Celebration Events, and giving tours of the office to visiting DeMolay Members and guests. All of these things will give me insight on how DeMolay and other non-profits operate. I can't wait to represent Iowa DeMolay in Kansas City this summer.

Leadership and Vision

Once upon a time, a group of soldiers became lost in the Alps. They were hungry and disoriented. They argued about which way to go, but in the fading light every peak looked the same. The soldiers had no chance of surviving the night in the freezing temperatures. Suddenly, a miracle. One of them found a map sewn into the lining of his kitbag. He plotted a route, and marched them briskly back to base. Later, when they were warm and well fed, the soldier looked closer at his map. It actually was of the Pyrenees – hundreds of miles away. It's like the old saying – when you're lost, any old map will do.

Take-away: Leadership entails vision. Otherwise where are you leading people to? If you don't know where you want to go to – and if you can't communicate that direction effectively – then you have no right to ask people to join you on the journey.
